

Thailand

Pongtorn Kiatpathomchai

Chief Judge, Research Division of the Supreme Court, Thailand

[Education]

- Bachelor of laws, Thammasat University
- Thai Bar Association Under the Royal Patronage
- Master of laws, Temple School of Law
- Master of laws, The Dickinson School of Law of Penn State University

[Experience]

- Judge – Trainee
- Judge of the Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court
- Chief Judge in the Research Division of the Supreme Court

Ruengrong Boonyarattaphun

Legal Officer, Senior Professional Level, Department of Intellectual Property, Ministry of Commerce, Thailand

Ruengrong Boonyarattaphun graduated from Faculty of Laws, Chulalongkorn University. After Bachelor of Laws, she continued her Master of Laws (Practicum) and Master of Laws (Thesis) at Indiana University, Bloomington, U.S.A. Later in 2002, She came back to work as Legal officer, Legal Affairs Office, Department of Intellectual Property.

She has experiences working on intellectual property laws and enforcement of intellectual Property. In 2013, She moved to work in IPR Enforcement Office as Head of Directorate and IP Enforcement System Development Group until now.