Summary

IP systems constitute essential social infrastructure that supports innovation, and trial and appeal systems play a pivotal role in ensuring the credibility and stability of the systems. It is increasingly important to stay informed of the latest developments in trial and appeal systems of each country and region.

Therefore, we are pleased to host a user symposium at which representatives from trial and appeal departments of IP5 offices of Japan, China, Europe, Korea and the United States will deliver their latest initiatives in the field of IP trial and appeal systems, along with the recent developments in the field of judiciaries and intellectual property by WIPO.
